A black and white photograph of a man, Damon Brown, playing a trumpet. He is shown in profile, facing right, with his eyes closed in concentration. He is wearing a light-colored, vertically striped dress shirt and a dark tie. The trumpet is held in his hands, and a bright light source from the right creates a strong highlight on the bell and the player's face. The background is dark and out of focus, featuring a patterned curtain and horizontal light streaks.
